

THE EVIL PRINCESS

They once existed a evil princess called Taylor, who wanted all of the toys in history. Taylor was born on the 11th March 2010 she already had her birthday but she says it's every day (not true).And she has got no friends because Taylor was going to kill them (awkward).As soon as Batman found out he ran to sir awesome (he is a genius).So he said to stab her with a toxic acid which turns her into a lovely young girl. As soon it was handed to him he was raced to London(were she lives and her family). So Batman flew towards the great, green, terrifying, doors.Which a guard stood in front of. Surprisingly, the guard open the door for Batman. Luckily Taylor the evil princess was asleep so Batman could stab her when she was asleep. Gently Batman tiptoed towards Taylor the first 10 steps was brilliant but as soon he was going to take another step but Taylors snoring was very very strong so Batman nearly fell over. He was very lucky and suddenly, he had a great idea of climbing up the curtains and then jumping onto her and stabbing her. He was just above her when she snored a little louder and heavier Batman nearly fell off the curtains but he did drop the toxic acid. The guard saw so he quietly threw it to batman andhe cached it so then he ran out of the room quickly then he jumped and stabbed her then she woke up and the first word she said was hello how are you?so batman went back to the bat cave and every body lived happily ever after.

Made by Lucas/ just a quick story

Read my other short story's now 😎